

Gastronomic Jersey

Good food has been one of Jersey's attractions for many years and the Island has built up an international reputation for its fine range of restaurants and cooking styles, which continues to impress visitors and locals alike.

A friendly welcome, the widespread use of fresh local produce especially freshly caught seafood, interesting and varied menus together with outstanding value all provide a dining experience to remember. Whether it be in a simple beach café, a family friendly brasserie, a traditional country pub or a gourmet restaurant, you will find it all in Jersey.

FOR PARTIES,
CELEBRATIONS, FUNCTIONS OR SIMPLY A GOOD MEAL AND A PINT!
OPEN YEAR ROUND.

Le Moulin de Lecq Inn provides a welcome and relaxing change to the hustle and bustle of St. Helier. This picturesque tavern is just a stones throw away from Grève de Lecq beach nestled in a pretty valley.

Formerly a fuller's mill, with parts of the mill dating back to the 12th century, Le Moulin de Lecq is a historic landmark featuring the largest water wheel on the Island.

The property is run as a genuine free house and restaurant serving a range of real ales and beers an ideal place to bring family and friends for any occasion.

For professionals visiting the Island, the Inn offers a variety of facilities such as separate function/meeting rooms, a large projector screen and a wi-fi service.

So come and enjoy one of the island's favourite watering holes!

Family Fun

Days out with the Family and Other Animals

As Jersey's international conservation hub approaches its golden anniversary, there's no better time to visit Durrell and come face to face with its collection of rare species from across the globe.

Founded by Gerald Durrell almost 50 years ago, the 31-acre park is home to more than 1,400 mammals, birds, reptiles and amphibians. All species on display are either threatened with extinction themselves, or are being studied as cousins to species which are heavily endangered in the wild and urgently need help.

Durrell recently unveiled ambitious new plans to enhance the visitor experience still further. These would feature a much larger gorilla facility recreating the forests of West Africa; an exhibit based on the Mascarene Islands which will allow visitors to walk through a dome with free ranging bats, birds and turtles; and eco-lodges to allow overnight stays in the park.
